

FEMINIST COALITION

A Statement from the Feminist Coalition

The Feminist Coalition has worked tirelessly since October 2020 to ensure every amount earmarked for disbursement reaches the people who need it.

The Feminist Coalition stopped receiving donations towards the peaceful #EndSARS movement on October 22nd, 2020. Our public statement of October 22nd outlined the allocation of the remaining funds.

The balance of funds were to be spent as outlined below:

1. #EndSARSresponse (Medical) - ~~₦~~20,114,087.25
2. The Legal Aid Network - ~~₦~~15,741,459.59
3. Relief for victims of police brutality and families of the deceased - ~~₦~~40,228,174.51
4. Memorial for the Fallen - ~~₦~~5,247,153.197
5. #EndSARSMentalHealthSupport - ~~₦~~6,121,678.73

Since October, we have continued our voluntary work with a great sense of duty and the diligence that managing public trust deserves. This work involved ensuring proper procedures were in place to manage donations and identify and verify numerous claims of the several victims of police brutality. This aligns with the values of transparency and accountability we have upheld in our public communications since our intervention. Listed below are Feminist Coalition's fund allocation activities in line with our statement. Please note that all funds crowdsourced by the Feminist Coalition are separate from funds externally raised by other groups, including our beneficiaries, such as EndSARSResponse.

1. #EndSARSresponse (Medical) & #EndSARSMentalHealthSupport: Between October and November 2020, we donated ~~₦~~20,114,087.25 to #EndSARSresponse (Medical) and ~~₦~~6,121,678.73 to #EndSARSMentalHealthSupport.
2. Relief for Victims of Police Brutality: From November 2020 to February 2021, the Feminist Coalition donated N40,000,000 to 80 families (N500,000 each) across Nigeria who have lost loved ones to police brutality or have been victims themselves. Within the fund for police brutality victims, we provided one fatally impacted family with additional funds for housing (rent), clothing, food, furniture, transportation and school books totalling ₦5,682,000. In total, victims of police brutality and/or their families received ₦45,682,000. Several beneficiaries publicised their receipt of these funds on their volition, but the Feminist Coalition is committed to the victims' privacy and would not dishonour their memory.

3. Memorial: On December 31st, 2020, we released the "Memorial for the Fallen" documentary, which cost ₦2,000,000. The documentary memorial was dedicated to preserving the memory of police brutality victims in Nigeria: https://youtu.be/SSvB4_hzPol. The surplus of ₦3,247,153.97 from 'The Memorial' was included in the initial victims of police brutality fund of ₦40,228,174.51.
4. Legal Support (Outstanding): Currently, ₦13,534,787.30 is outstanding for the Legal Aid Network (EndSARS Legal Aid) who have been working tirelessly since October 2020 to provide legal services to unlawful arrest victims and police brutality. At present, the Legal Aid Network is finalising their organisational structure and have requested the funds be held until they are ready.

All other funds received by the Feminist Coalition for the purposes mentioned above have been disbursed. The report of the ongoing audit committee of the #EndSARS funds raised by Feminist Coalition will be publicly available within eight weeks, with independent external auditors' endorsement.

The Feminist Coalition has continued to pursue its primary objectives to advance women-focused causes with its independent resources, outside of the concluded #EndSARS donations. On December 16th, 2020, we provided 1000 low-income women and their families with critically needed food supplies. Our most recent project, announced March 8th, aims to make transportation safer for women in Nigeria.

This transaction was part of a sale of 7.21958757 BTC for NGN 57,590,000 with a third party. Feminist Coalition received the proceeds of the sale between November 16th and December 1st 2020. The delay in confirming the BTC transaction until March 5th 2021, was due to the meagre Bitcoin network fees chosen. People with knowledge of cryptocurrency transactions understand that this is not uncommon. The Bitcoin network has been clogged for the last few months.

We chose to use the cheapest fees possible to ensure we spent the maximum possible donations towards our mission, rather than operating expenses/transaction fees.

We sent the BTC in two transactions, one from our BTCPay server and one from our public wallet address. See trail below:

The blockchain trail above gives credence to the Feminist Coalition's transparent use of funds. Understanding that the public is still new to cryptocurrency nuances and blockchain technology makes it incumbent on us to provide this clarification.
